

August, the last of the summer procession, will arrive on Wednesday next, when July will make her adieu for a twelve months' visit to other parts of the earth.

Long ago society issued an unwritten law making August the gayest month in the year at seaside and mountain resort. Just why this is so, no one quite understands. Perhaps the custom grew out of the fact that for men, as well as for women, it has seemed the most available time for holiday making and, though the modern woman has grown mightily as regards independence, she is not yet prepared to part with so convenient an adjunct to society as man.

So it is that the Bar Association will meet in August at Hot Springs, and the crowd will gather during the time-honored Greenbrier White Sulphur, where several Richmond debutantes of next season will have their preliminary entrance into society, and begin the tale of their triumphs in the parlors and ball-room at the White Sulphur, where, through so many years, beautiful Southern women have gathered to lend to this historic watering place the charm of the loveliness and their grace.

Miss Anne Keith Royall will be entertained by Miss Lamb, of Ghent, Norfolk, at an August house party, of which Miss Peachy and Miss Lane, of Williamsburg, Va., will also be members. Many other house parties in Tidewater, Piedmont and upper Virginia are scheduled for the next few weeks, when every form of out-door and in-door gaiety will be brought into requisition by graceful Virginia hostesses, who hold the palm for agreeability and graciousness.

August in the Virginia country-side is the time for what is known as "protracted" meetings, and church associations. In these, people gather, far and wide on an annual camping ground, live in tents for weeks and attend religious service daily. It is the farmer's picnic period. Anxious for the time being are laid aside and the rural population permits itself a brief relaxation from the cares and burdens of work.

Among the August house-parties, none will be more enjoyed than that under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Winn, at Warren, White Sulphur Springs, near Front Royal, Va. This party includes Misses Mary Day and Elizabeth Winn, and many of their Richmond friends. Another delightful party is gathered at "Sleepy Hollow," on York River, the home of the Messrs. Gates, where bathing, boating and dancing all midsummer days with merry gaiety. Miss Ella Scott and Miss Essie Gates, of Richmond, are among the guests at "Sleepy Hollow."

Many Richmond people will go to Hot Springs this month for the meeting of the State Bar Association, among them Mr. and Mrs. Dora Hinton, and Judge and Mrs. L. L. Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. James Alston Cabell will go to the meeting of the Bar and afterward spend some time at the White Sulphur. General and Mrs. William Ruffin Cox and their sons are spending the summer at Ponola, in the mountains of North Carolina. The young gentlemen greatly enjoy the pleasures of country life and the pleasures afforded by the North Carolina beach resorts. General and Mrs.

Cox anticipate going North for a part of the summer. They will return to Richmond next autumn, and be here for the winter.

The erection of the new dancing-room and the renovation of other apartments at the Executive Mansion is being rapidly carried forward, and the work promises to be complete early this autumn. It will certainly add greatly to the beauty, comfort and convenience of the Mansion, and will be an indispensable adjunct to the State entertainments that are to be a feature of next year. The Colonial character of the historic building will be strictly preserved. The changes will be thoroughly in harmony and will only serve to increase the idea of dignity and spaciousness for which the Mansion has always been famous.

Announcements already made and those that will be made later, indicate the usual number of brilliant weddings for late summer and early autumn. October is generally the choice of the autumn bride, but September is to hear the sound of wedding bells also, this year.

The return of European tourists will begin in August, a part of which, Mrs. Arthur Gordon, who sailed from England with her husband a week ago, will spend with Mrs. Hunter McGuire at Healing Springs. Mrs. Andrew Christian is expected home shortly. Her mother and sister, Mrs. and Miss Archer, will remain abroad longer.

August is generally considered a dull month in city life, but people in Richmond this year find many compensations for not going away. Social lines are drawn closer as numbers are thinner; many little pleasures are arranged and carried out, and the day-at-home, being of a philosophical turn of mind, adapts themselves admirably to circumstances and make an excellent best of the adaptation.

Stuart-Cox.
The wedding of Miss Fannie Benson, Cox, of Ashland, Va., to the Rev. Charles Edwin Stuart, of Richmond, on August 7th, was a source of much interest to both Ashland and Richmond people, where they are very popular.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. Duncan B. and Mrs. Saline Woolfolk Cox, and is a young lady of fine Christian character and attractive personality. She is very intelligent, and will be much missed in Ashland. Her father is one of Ashland's leading business men, and a member of the Town Council. She is related, on her mother's side, to the well-known Woolfolk, Coleman and Worthington families of Virginia.

The groom is the son of the late Rev. R. H. Stuart and Mrs. Sarah Quarles Stuart, of Southwest Virginia, and is a nephew of the late Professor Charles B. Stuart, of one of the prominent teachers in Randolph-Macon College, Roanoke, and principal of a school in Ashland many years ago. He is connected with many leading families in the State. He is a man of high Christian culture and piety, a successful minister, and has been pastor of churches at Columbia, Ashland and in Lee County, where he established a school.

At present he is pastor of Venable Street Baptist Church, Dr. Charles B. Ryland, of Richmond College, who was the officiating minister at the marriage of the bride's parents, in Carolina county.

Miss Annie Duncan Cox, sister of the bride, was a member of honor, and the Rev. William Lockhart Ball, pastor of West Baptist Church, this city, the best man. The ushers will be Mr. Charles Edwin Cox, brother of the bride; Mr. Frank Halliwell Cox, the bride's cousin; Mr. W. B. Quarles, cousin of the groom; and Mr. John Lewis Price, of Richmond, Va.

Wallach-Pattée.
Mr. John A. Pattée announces the marriage of his daughter, Elizabeth Maes, to Mr. Carl Douglas Wallach, on Saturday, July 29, in St. Anthony's Church, Ambler, Pennsylvania. Mr. Wallach is a resident of Richmond, and has a great number of friends here who will be interested in reading the announcement given above.

Engagement Announced.
The engagement is announced of Miss Edith Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Judson Gould, of Tarrytown, N. Y., to Mr. Walter DeWitt Blair, now of New York City, the son of Mr. Lewis H. Blair, of No. 51 East Grace Street. Mr. Walter D. Blair is a distinguished graduate of the University of Virginia, who took his doctor's degree in the German university. The news of his engagement will be received with interest here, in Charlottesville and Boylston, Va.

Waterman-Hord.
Mr. and Mrs. Oranville Hord have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Edith Hord, to Mr. John Langdon Waterman. The wedding will take place Wednesday evening, August 8th, at 8:30 o'clock, in the house of the bride's parents, No. 213 North Nineteenth Street.

Mr. Waterman is the son of the late J. L. Waterman, of Petersburg. After August 15th, the young couple will be at home in Oakland, Northampton county, N. C.

Ben Venue House Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCormick Greene are entertaining a house party at their country home, "Ben Venue," near Bennington, Va. Among their guests are Miss South, Miss Levis, of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Andrews, of Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. Thompson Sowers, of Clark County, and Mr. L. G. Lackey, of Clifton Forge, Va., owner of the Virginia Happy Creek Copper Mines.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walcott, of Washington, D. C., are the hosts of dinner party on Wednesday last, and Mr. and Mrs. Green were among those present, others being Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bryan, Miss Lippitt, Miss R. C. Hill, and Miss Montague, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hill.

At North Hatley.

Miss Nannie Montague, the lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Montague, is spending the summer at North Hatley, Canada, with her aunt, Mrs. Charles M. Callin, of New York, who gave a brilliant cotillon in Miss Montague's honor, Friday evening, July 28th, in the Town Hall, at North Hatley.

All the visiting bells and beaux in this popular little Canadian resort were invited. A full band rendered delightful music, and the hall was most artistically and beautifully decorated with elaborate floral and Japanese lanterns. Tempting viands were served at 11 o'clock. Miss Montague and Mrs. Callin received their guests in an arbor of greenery, and all went "merry as a marriage bell" until the "twelve and hours," when they were regretfully said.

Miss Montague had her home in Richmond until her father's removal to New York, some months ago, removed her from the younger society set here, where she was a great favorite. She wears a "faded" dress, and is a very charming girl. Her father, Philip Haxall, who for many years was a leading Richmond and Virginia beauty and belle.

Gala House Party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Price, of Gala, Va., entertained their guests during the past winter, Misses Marguerite A. Palmer, of Virginia, Va.; Mary Moulton, of Centralia, Va.; Louise Selken, of Stokes, Va.; Helen Stevens, of Henric, Va.; Mrs. John H. Henson, of Williamsburg, Va.; Mrs. George W. Stevens, Jr., of Cecil W. Stevens, and Dr. Lawrence T. Price, of Richmond, Va.

Miss Motley Hostess.

Miss Grace Motley is entertaining a delightful house party at her home, near Danville, Va. Young ladies who are Miss Motley's house guests include Miss Mary Lou Tucker, Miss Mabel Franklin, and Miss Elsie Shepherd, all of Lynchburg; Miss Elsie Hall, of Danville; Miss Pearl Lewis, of Roanoke, and Miss Lizzie Jefferson, of Danville.

Guest of Mr. Hobson.

Mr. John Thomson Booth, of Carter's Hall, Va., was a visitor, a few days ago, at the home of Hon. Richmond Pearson Hobson, in Greenbrier, Ala. When a young naval officer, stationed at Newport News, Lieutenant Hobson was several times a guest at Carter's Hall. He is now the nominee for Congress in the district of which he is one of the best representatives by Hon. Mr. Birkhead.

The battleship Virginia, on which Lieutenant William Harris Booth is stationed, is now cruising in and about Lynnhaven Bay. This vessel is expected to accompany the Legislature, when the President goes to the banquet of Panama next autumn, making with him his cabinet officials and their wives.

At New York, it was expected to be the West Indies, but may remain in those waters and be the flagship of Rear Admiral Davis.

Dr. Stewart Injured.

It is a matter of regret to many friends of the Rev. Dr. Calvin Stewart the esteemed pastor of the Church of the Covenant, that he had a bad fall on Tuesday evening last while visiting in the home of one of his parishioners, and broke the bones of his left hand.

Good wishes from Richmond follow him on his trip.

Gay Season at Otterburn.

The season at the Otterburn Lithia Springs Hotel, Otterburn, Va., gives promise of surpassing all previous summer seasons in this section, and is well filled, and the bookings for August go ahead of any previous year.

Otterburn is famous in Richmond and vicinity as a favorite health and summer resort. As a lady guest expressed it, it is "just the spot on earth and in Virginia for babies."

The wheel of pleasure has turned rapidly the past week—in fact, it has been somewhat difficult to get all the fetes planned into so small a space.

A large hop was given in the spacious ball-room on Monday evening. The rotunda, parlors and ball-room were bowers of greenery, the color scheme being green, brown and yellow. Great masses of yellow cone-flowers were used effectively, while the stairway and entrance were banked with stately cut-tails, resembling in their arrangement the Southern palmetto palm.

Besides the regular guests of the hotel, about sixty came from Richmond, Danville, Amelia, Jetersville, Olga and surrounding towns to this occasion. The lawn was luminous with Japanese lanterns, as were the long piazzas, where the small tables were grouped for refreshments.

A "Peter Pan" dance is booked for the near future, and gentlemen do not mean that their creation will be a printed altogether by the ladies, even if introduced by as noted a woman as Maude Adams.

Tuesday and Wednesday were given up to the amusement of the children in the hotel. Tuesday morning there was a bowling contest. Later in the day Mrs. Charles G. Billups gave an "observation" party in honor of her two sons, Morton and Stuart, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all the young people. Games were played, and the first for the young maidens going to Marie Chatwood, of Richmond; that for the young men to Newton Ancearrow, Jr., also of Richmond. The consolation prize went to little Miss Annie Lee.

In the evening Mrs. Stump gave a "dinner party," which occupied much amusement. The first prize, a handsome book, was won by Mr. Leonard Chatwood. The first ladies' prize, a souvenir box of paper, was won by Miss Julia Lane, of Petersburg. Mr. Thomas Zieheberger, of Chester, took the bobby prize, a donkey in a box.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Chatwood gave a ball masque, which brought out representatives from every clime. Little Miss Louise Stump, who represented a Japanese maiden, and the "Indian" first prize, Miss Florence Stump, was an "old maid," and everyone sympathized with her so deeply that she won the consolation prize. Newton Ancearrow, Jr., bore his part—that of "Rouben Hayseed"—so well as to win the gentlemen's first prize. The bobby prize was awarded to Charles Tippetts, who made up as an exceedingly robust infant, had a card on his breast announcing that his prodigious growth was the result of being
